Shelia was a beacon of love and generosity throughout her life. She graduated from Dadeville High School and went on to serve as the dedicated Office Manager for Daniel Oil Company, where her sharp wit and caring nature made her a beloved figure. Her commitment to her community was unwavering; she was an active member of Camp Hill Baptist Church, contributing to the WMU, and also attended Mt. Carmel Baptist Church. Her faith was a cornerstone of her existence, guiding her in all her endeavors.

Anyone who knew Shelia was aware of her legendary green beans and her selfless habit of hauling food all over the county to those in need. Her generosity knew no bounds, and her kitchen was a place of both comfort and joy. Shelia's love for Christmas was infectious, and she took great delight in decorating her house and yard, creating a festive wonderland that brought smiles to all who passed by.

A nurturing soul, Shelia cherished the time she spent operating a daycare, where she was affectionately known as a second mother to many. Her loving nature extended to her own family, especially her cherished grandchildren and great-grandchildren, whom she adored with every fiber of her being.

Shelia's pride in her family was immense, particularly for her husband, Melvin, who set an inspiring example by graduating with a degree in Veterinary Science from Auburn University
